A BITER BITTEN.

How a Chicago Man Tried to Defame the Character of a Crippled Woman but Got the Worst of It.

[Special Telegram to the Globe.] CHICAGO, Dec. 26 .- George A. Lomar told his story of how Alice E. Logan, alias Mrs. Mary E. Ball, had obtained $450 from him under false representations, to Justice C. J. White to-day. He said he became acquainted with her through a personal in the papers and a good many let-ters were written by each before the pair met. She told a piteous tale of having been defrauded out of certain pro-perty located in Indians, music, songs, readings and recitations, besides refreshments. They are determined to have a good time, and have engaged an excellent quadrille band.

They are determined but being without money with which to cary on the suit she feared she would lose the amount at stake, $6,000. She said she was under the care of a doctor; that she was thrown from a wagon and hurt her limbs, but if she was married she would soon get over her lameness. He was pleased with the prospect of getting the $6.000 and advanced the money and proposed marriage to her. But a short time elapsed, however, before he discovered she was deceiving him, and he accused her of misropresenting the facts of the law suit, or in other words of lying to him. This Lomar said, she acknowledged, and after being driven from the house and followed by a man who she said was her brother-in-law, but was really her husband, he had her arrested. Mrs. Ball then told her side of the story. She said she had become acquainted with Lomar through a certain Kate Taylor, who was in her employ in the capseity of a servant. He used to come to the house every day, and finally be-coming tired of having him around the house bothering the girl she told her hus band, Dr. Ball, to inform Lomar to keep away from the premises. He became incensed at the command and turned his attention to the doctor by writing him letters of a blackmailing character. The first one accused the doctor of being the father of Kate Taylor's illegitimate child, and he further said, Mrs. Ball peeked through the keyhole and saw her husband sustaining improper relations with Kate Taylor. He demanded $200 of the doctor as a com-promise. On the second day of May Ly-mar sent the following letter to the doc-

"CHICAGO, May 2, 1881 .- To J. K, Ball: "Chicago, May 2, 1881.—To J. R. Ball:

of seduction with Kate Taylor or things will be made hot for you, as we have a good witness against you. Respectfully,

A Lawyer.

(Signed.) A Liwysen.
Lomar acknowledged having written the letter, but said it was at the dictation of Mrs Ball. Another letter was handed to Lomar which he admitted having written,

and read as follows:
Chicago, Ill., March 17, 1881.—J. K. Ball: I request you to come to my office and settle charges against you, Kate Tay-lor charges you with seduction. Whoever being a man shall seduce any nnmarried woman within this state shall be guilty of a high misdemeanor, and shall be fined in any sam not exceeding $500 or imprison-ment for not exceeding six months or both in the descretion of the court. Most re spectfully. [Signed] A. Goodhich, Attorney at law, 124 Dearborn street."

"Did you write that letter?" asked Justice White.
"Yes," said Lomar, "at her (Mrs. Ball's)

"Why sign Goodrich's name to that letter without his knewledge?" "I think I did. It looks like my writing."

"A man who would be guilty of an act of that kind and acknowledge it, is unworthy of credence. The case is dismissed."

Lomar upon hearing the decision of the justice, quickly took his hat and left the oom with a crestfallen look on his face amidst the laughter of the crowd. The lawyer for Mrs. Ball wished his client to get a warrant for Lomar's arrest on a charge of forgery, but she was unwilling, being satisfied with showing him up. Mrs. Ball has been a cripple since 1871, and was brought into the court room support-ed by her husband and a helper.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 26 .-- The deposition of Frederick C. Burchard, an important witness in the case of Miss Aggie Hill vs. Senator Sharon, was taken to-day. It ter-tified that he was an accountant in a wholesale grocery house in Portland, Oregon, and met Miss Hill at the Palace hotel in April, 1881, and afterwards visited Belmont, Sharon's country residence. While there he saw Miss Hill frequently and proposed and was accepted and the engagement acknowledged before visitors. It was broken off on the ground that witness had deceived her as to the extent of his fortune. Daving the period of the his fortune. During the period of this engagement she told him that Sharon and Dr. Bradford were both deeply in love with her and had made her offers of marriage, but that no relations existed be-tween Sharon and herself than those of friendship.

The Branch Line to the Yellowstone National Park has its terminal point here, and all the immense travel to that famous resort is compelled to stop here from a few hours' time to a number of days. The principal shops of the railroad company between Brainerd and the Pacific Ocean are now boing built here. They will give employment to probably 1000 men. Pine timber is plenty in the surrounding country, and various sewmills in the immediate vicinity of the town farnish work for hosts of employes. The valleys of the Yellowstone, Shields and Smith rivers are vest and very rich in agricultural resources, and are well settled. Their trade is entirely tributary to Livingston, while magnificent cattle ranches abound in every direction; vast raines of true bituminous coal, which can be coked for 1½ cents por ton; also rich iron mines are within two to four miles from town, at dare being worked. The gold placer mines of Emigrant Gulch, Bear Crevice, Sill Creek, and Eight-Mile Creek, are all in the Yellowstone Valley just south of Livingston, directly tributary to it, and are being actively worked. That wonderfully rich quarts country, eilver and gold, known as the Clark's Fork District, is south of town, end Livingston is the headquarters and outfitting point. Immense deposits of limectone, sandstone, clay and fine brick clay, are but two miles distant, and the manufacture of lime is already an important industry, this being the first point after leaving Duluth on the east, 1,000 miles, where lime rock is found. There are some 200 buildings in course of construction. The Park Addition on which the new $17,000 school house is expected to be built is the most desirable residence property in town, while the Palace Addition. There are many chances for bu Corner Ninth and Saint Peter streets. profitable employment are very good and workmen as well as men of capital will find plenty of chances in and around the town. Livingston is less than a year old, yet it is probably the second largest city in Montana: It is not surprising when one considers that agriculture alone has made Fargo; the Northern Pacific company's railroad shope, Brainerd; summer visitors, Saratoga; lumber, Ean Claire; silver and gold mines, Denver; cattle Kansas City; iron and coal, Pittsburg; that a combination of all of these factors as is found here should, within the next five years make this point a city of at least 50,000 people. The prediction may seem a wild one, but we have yet to see or know anyone who, a few years ago, was accused of being wild then in their predictions, who predicted one-half of what has actual ly occurred in the Northern Pacific country. We sold lots in Fargo a few years ago for $100 each that would sell to-day for $10 000; acres at Jameston for $15 per acre (cost 48 cents) that to-day sell for $1,500, and are built on. We have acres to-day in Fargo which cost 48% cents that are now in town lots selling at the rate of $1,250 per acre. So lots at Livingston which we now effer at from $25 to $250 will, inside of 3 years, sell at from $500 to $10,000 apiece. They have done so at all good points on the road in the past, and they will in the future—particularly at an exceptionally good point like this. We ad ance price in July.
